Council reverses stand on abolition of 65% minimum

by SUE SWAN
SEC Reporter

Last week's narrow vote to recommend abolition of the 65 per cent academic minimum for major campus posts was reversed last night by the Students' Executive Council.

A 7-6 vote paralleled the first vote on the issue, last week, when seven Council members narrowly edged the measure past a six-man opposition.

A second vote last night — passed 11-2 — recommended setting the minimum five per cent above the passing average in the applicant's faculty or school.

If the recommendation is accepted by the Constitution Revision Committee and subsequently by the Campus at large in a referendum, it will affect only students in the Faculty of Arts and Science. Students in all other faculties except Graduate Studies and Research will be required to

Twenty-five named

New Scarlet Keys appointed

Twenty-five members have been elected to the Scarlet Key Honour Society for the coming year.

The new appointees, listed along with some of their 1964-65 activities, are: Lloyd Baron, B. Com. III, Vice-President of the Commerce Undergraduate Society; Edward Baylin, B.A. III, Arts and Science representative to the Students' Executive Council; David Brandes, B.A. III, Second Vice-President of the Arts and Science Undergraduate Society and Inter-Collegiate Chairman of the Debating Union;

Allen Flye, B.Sc. III, Vice-Chairman of Freshman Reception; Lawrence Knight, Med. II, President of the second year Medical class; Leonard Koffman, Arch. V, President of the Architecture Undergraduate Society;

Edmond de Koos, Med. II, President of the Film Society and Editor of the Canadian Association of Medical Students and Interns Journal; George Lengvari, Law II, Captain of the Redmen

External Affairs highlights meeting

External Affairs policy and the danger of loss of autonomy by the Students' Executive Council are the major topics on the agenda of today's Students' Society Open Meeting, to be held at 1 pm in the Union Ballroom.

The main item is external policy. External Affairs Representative Bruce Clevin will discuss McGill's participation in the Canadian Union of Students and l'Union Générale des Etudiants du Québec.

Saeed Mirza, President of the Students' Society, will present a report of the year's activities. Included in this report will be a description and explanation of the disciplinary actions taken against two students earlier this year for defacing the train on the football trip to Kingston.

Mirza will warn students of the possible repercussions of this kind of behavior, should it occur again. Not only will further disciplinary action be taken, but such behavior could affect the autonomy of the Students' Society.

The disapproval of the abolition of the 65% rule by University authorities will be presented as another threat to the autonomy of the Students' Society. The rule requiring all elected members of the SEC and the Chairmen of major activities such as Winter Carnival to have a 65% average, was abolished by a close vote in the SEC meeting last Monday.

(At last night's meeting, the decision to recommend abolition of the 65% minimum was reversed by the SEC. — ed. note).

Another topic that will be discussed at the meeting is the improvement of the McGill Conference on Student Affairs. The Conference, which is held during the week of registration every September, was designed to improve co-operation among campus organizations.

Reorganization of MCSA is necessary because recommendations presented by the clubs in September have not been properly followed up during the year. Mirza will suggest that the President's Banquet held in January be modified so that it will serve as a second-term session of MCSA.

Other matters that will be discussed include the increase in the fine powers of the SEC from $25 to $100 and the exchange program with French Canadian universities.

A report on the progress of the New Union will be presented by Ed Boulter, Vice-President of the Students' Society.

New Union ready by September

by MARC RABOY

H. Sonny Gordon, Chairman of the New Union Committee, said last night that the New Union would definitely be ready for general occupancy by September. He hopes the Union staff will be settled there by that time.

Addressing a meeting of the Students' Executive Council, Gordon also outlined the management breakdown for the University Centre, as the New Union will be known.

The business operations of the Union will be controlled by a seven-man committee consisting of the following people:

- 1) a member of the University Senate as Committee Chairman;
- 2) the Comptroller of the University;

- 3) the Business Manager of the University Residence and Dining Halls;
- 4) a member of the Graduates' Society, to be chosen by the SEC;
- 5) the President of the Students' Society;
- 6) the President of the Students' Union; and
- 7) the Secretary-Treasurer of the Students' Society.

The SEC will be responsible for the financial problems of the Centre and will appoint a Building Manager who will be in consultation with the committee.

Gordon said that a capital budget for the Union will be ready before the end of the academic year and that the SEC should be prepared to assume financial responsibility by May 1.

He added that the funds granted by the University will not be sufficient and that the SEC would have to pay for some of the utilities.

With regard to the furnishings of the building, Gordon stated that tenders will be sent out in a few days, and none of the equipment from the Old Union would be transferred to the new building.

Caterers for the grillroom and the downstairs coffee bar have been asked to submit tenders to the New Union Committee, and a contract will be awarded to one of them sometime in February.

The telephone complex will be controlled by a central switchboard, with eight lines coming into the building. Four of these lines will be disconnected during the summer months, thus effecting a saving of eight hundred dollars a year. There will also be an intercom system between some of the various offices to facilitate internal communication.

The bookstore in the Union basement is to be completed during the summer and will be functioning in time for fall registration.

In summation, Gordon said, "The University Centre has been planned to alleviate all of the obvious deficiencies of the present Union while taking into consideration the needs for the future and the limitations of physical and financial resources."

Frailty's name is woman*Males victorious in RVC debate

by ANACLETO PELLEGRINI

A male affirmative team successfully maintained that "Frailty, thy name is Woman" in front of a biologically prejudiced audience last night at Royal Victoria College.

The affirmative team was composed of two members of the Debating Union executive: Ross Lambert, Chairman, and Harry Bloomfield, Men's Vice-President, while Devon Emory, B.A. III, and Jane Dreyer, B.A. IV, both finalists in the Inter-Fraternity Debating Tournament, made up the negative team.

Jill McMurtry, the President of the Women's Union, and George Kubanek, the Vice-President of the PGSS, were the two judges. Judy Lee, Women's Vice-President of the Debating Union, acted as Chairman of the debate, held after the Second Year Dinner.

Bloomfield, the first affirmative speaker, after declaring how thankful he was that the almost-all-female audience was frail, proceeded to define "frailty" as instability of mind and moral weakness and then to equate these with woman. To forestall a possible argument for the negative, he quoted Catherine the Great as having stated, after fifty years of public life, that her life had been a total "frailure".

He also remarked that his point could be proved from history and actuality.

Miss Dreyer, the first speaker for the negative, pointed out that although woman may be frail, man is even frailer. She gave the example of the expectant father who can not stand the mental strain while the woman is going through intense physical pain.

The second speaker for the affirmative, Lambert, explained that women were motivated by vanity and a search for security. To attain this security, or husband, he claimed that women were very deceitful and turned the Arts course into a "Pre-Wed" course by the use of "matter over mind".

In reply to an accusation that more men than women were in penitentiaries, Lambert reminded his opponents that "very few men are arrested for prostitution". He complained that ever since the first woman was made from the rib of a man, she has been a pain in his side.

Miss Emory, the final speaker for the negative, displayed a pin-up and exclaimed, "Look what the poor girl had to do to earn a living, catering to the depravities of man." She stated that women had been feigning frailty to get men to do what they wanted. Commenting on what modern man desires in a woman, she said, "Whatever they want we can supply."

When the debate was over and the winners had been announced, the affirmative team went over and gallantly kissed the hands of their opponents, the frail sex.

Plumbers sponsor annual Ball*Formal held in Queen E.

Once again the Engineering Undergraduate Society, long famous for its festive events, is planning its annual Plumbers' Ball, which will be held on January 15, 1965.

As in the past, this year's dance will be the peak of the social season at McGill, being the only formal ball open to the entire campus, Goldman says. In an effort to make this year's dance even more enjoyable than past ones, the Plumbers' Ball Committee has combined highlights of previous dances with a few innovations of its own.

Until now, the Plumbers' Ball has been held in the Sir Arthur Currie Gym, which, no matter how enthusiastically decorated, still remained a gymnasium, claims Chairman Dave Goldman, whereas this year the Engineers have decided to move off the Campus and hold their dance in the Grand Salon of the Queen Elizabeth Hotel — considered a more appropriate choice.

There will also be an open bar at which refreshments will be purchased at a very reasonable price. One of the traditional features of the Ball, which was omitted last year, but will be resumed, is the serving of liquor in special glasses which can be taken home as souvenirs. "It is a known fact that many newlyweds stock their cupboards with this valuable crystalware," grinned Goldman.

Another tradition will be the presentation of displays by all the Engineering Departmental clubs. These have in the past produced many intriguing and novel items, such as a sex-detector in 1961 which worked on the principles of the photo-electric cell, and Project LARP — Low Altitude Research Project, which complemented McGill's Project IARP.

Tickets for the dance at $7.50 per couple will go on sale December 14 in the lobbies of the Engineering Buildings.

Exhibition game

Indians edged by Flyers

by LAWRENCE HAIMOVITCH

Last night, in exhibition junior hockey at the Winter Stadium, the Lakeshore Flyers (Junior 'B') defeated the Indians 3-2 in a close checking contest.

The game was not decided until the final siren as the Indians pressed for the equalizer after falling behind 3-2 with fifteen minutes remaining in the last stanza. The Indian defence corps once again played superbly but the forwards could not follow suit and pot the big goals, though presented with a multitude of opportunities. Shooting was again the weak spot in the Tribe's attack and this facet of the game will definitely have to sharpen up if the club has any aspirations of first place in the City Intercollegiate Hockey League.

The Flyers opened the scoring late in the first period as Richard Hughes found. The Indians had many chances in this frame with Helal, Klinck, and Griffiths testing the Flyers' goalie with difficult shots but he was equal to the task.

Early in the second period Jim Valerianos tied it up for the Indians with a marker at the 3:15 mark. This tally was set up by an end to end rush by rearguard Gilles Schipper who fed to Roger Helal and Helal laid a delicate pass on Valerianos' stick who proceeded to whip the rubber home.

André Joseph sent the Flyers in front in the final frame when he notched a goal at 1:10 from a scramble in front of the nets. Ron Miller put the Flyers up 3-1 when he tallied at 5:44 and the Indians seemed doomed. The squad would not yield an inch and Rick Walker counted a marker at 12:55 to put the Tribe back in the contest. Walker's linemates Feldman and MacKinnon each picked up assists on this play. The Indians kept the Flyers hemmed in for almost the last half period but were unlucky on a number of occasions and also were robbed by the Flyers goalie when in close.

East End rally sinks Redmen in close contest

by JOHN SMALL

Last night in waterpolo action, the McGill Redmen won a moral victory over the East End Boys' Club.

Although the score didn't look that way the team played a game of which they could be most proud. Except for the last five minutes, the Red squad was leading, but due to an unfortunate accident (and it is debatable whether it was an accident or not) one of its key players, Ian Elliot, was put out of action. As an end result, East End was able to take advantage of their demoralized opponents and pump in the four winning goals.

The style of play was close to perfection as McGill was swimming harder and passing faster and more often than in any previous game. One complaint that East End has voiced this year, was that they did not have enough competition in the city league, but last night they flatly admitted that they had to work and that the McGill team was the duce. Again Glenn Rutter provided the fire for the team, as he chalked up three goals (that give him fifty-one for the season) while hard working half-back Marcel Lachance got the same number also. Little Andy Heap came through with two and Ian Elliot with one, to round out the scoring.

Next Saturday is the all important game against U of T. That game will be the last of the two game total point series in which the Herschorn trophy is at stake.

Basketballers trounced by Plattsburgh squad

On Tuesday night, the Senior basketball team came out on the short end of a 107-50 score as they encountered the squad from Plattsburgh University, considered by some to be one of the strongest in northeastern U.S.

The Redmen continued to be slow on the execution of their shots. They had many opportunities on which they didn't even get their shots away. High scores on the Redshirt squad were Gerry Young with 9 points, and Mike Aneckstein, Randy Clarke, and Frank Vitale each with 8.

The Indians played against the Plattsburgh juniors on Tuesday and were also defeated by a score of 96-61. Shelley Zimmer led the Indians with 25 points, while Peter Small accounted for 13.

This coming Saturday afternoon, the Redmen will have their hands full as they meet the defending Dominion champs from Windsor. This is a unit loaded with excellent Americans.

Come out on Saturday and support your team.

Monteith starts fast; records threatened

Steve Monteith of University of Toronto Blues isn't wasting any time going after two Senior Intercollegiate Hockey League scoring records within his reach.

The 21-year-old right winger from Stratford, Ont., an all-star in each of his three seasons with Toronto, scored five goals and added three assists for eight points as Blues opened their regular schedule with two away-from-home victories last week-end. He counted a goal and two assists in a 5-4 win over Laval-Rouge et Or and exploded for four goals and an assist as Blues defeated McGill Redmen, 5-3.

The outburst vaulted Monteith into an early lead in league scoring and moved him to within 13 goals and 31 points of the all-time league career records. Pierre Raymond, formerly of Laval, holds the goal-scoring record of 62 and Michel Lagace, another former Laval player, the total points mark of 126.

With expansion of the college league to nine teams and lengthening of the schedule to 16 games from 12, Monteith may also have a good crack at the single-season records of 21 goals and 38 points.
